3000 NIGHTS (2015)

Director: Mai Masri

Palestine-France-Jordan-Lebanon-UAW-Qatar 2015, (103mins)

Layal is a newly married Palestinian teacher, who finds herself in prison - wrongly accused, as is the case for many Palestinian prisoners. She passes through the cells of Israeli women (in for common criminality). After discovering that she is pregnant, she is eventually moved to a cell of Palestinian women where her son is born and spends his early years. This beautifully made film takes us from Layal's experience of cruelty to one of caring, even in prison,

TRIP ALONG EXODUS (2015)

Director: Hind Shoufani

Trip Along Exodus is a feature-length documentary exploring the last 70 years of Palestinian politics through the prison of the life of Dr Elias Shoufani, a leader of the Palestine Liberation Organisation, an academic and left intellectual and author of 25 books. The film recreates Palestinian history using archive, family photos/8mm films, old photos, cartoons, animation, macro photography footage, glitter, worldwide interviews and multi-media formats in a video-art style documentary to produce a personal and political memoir.
